

Vicki's family spent the last two years in So. Carolina as her mother was from there. Then they moved to Gooding, Idaho, where they farmed. They moved to Heber City, Utah in April of 1968. Vicki attended Wasatch High. The Hendrix family is musically inclined and are popular as singers in the L.D.S. Wasatch Stake churches. In December of 1971, Vicki's parents moved to Orem, Utah, but they moved back to Heber City in 1974, and opened Finn's Reata Western Apparel store and they are still in that business. One of Vicki's sisters, LaRose Hiatt lives in Heber. Vicki graduated from Wasatch High School in the spring of 1970, then she attended two terms at Dixie College and one term at Utah State. The following year she attended Utah Technical College at Provo. She was waiting while Robert was filling his mission. She worked for an Orem Printing Shop that printed L.D.S. Church Seminary material. The same group of workers transferred to work in the basement of the new L.D.S. Church Office Building in Salt Lake City, Ut.

In May of 1973, she went to work for B.Y.U. Credit Union as a secretary. By the time she quit in Oct. of 1975, she was head loan secretary.

Robert was made Department Head for Maintenance of Wasatch County Hospital in April of 1977. The second child, Robert Douglas, was born on Oct. 25, 1977, in the Wasatch County Hospital. This was a busy day for Robert, he and his father were pouring cement footings for their new home and when he could, Robert hurried back and forth to the hospital. Robert and his father, Vincent T. Giles built the home and the family moved into it in September of 1979.

Susan was born on June 3, 1980 at Wasatch County Hospital. On April 1st, 1981, Robert was made Purchasing Agent for the hospital, he is now the Plant Engineer and Materials Manager.

Robert attended Utah State University one year, then filled an L.D.S. mission in Alabama and Florida; he spent the last three and a half months of his mission as a Tour Guide in Nauvoo, Ill. He arrived home on a Friday in Aug. 1973, and went to work cutting grain for Glade Horner. After the Heber Valley Feed, then owned by Brookfield Feeds, Inc.

In January of 1974, Robert enrolled at Utah Trade Tech. to study electronic technology. On March 22 of 1974 Robert K. Giles and Vicki Hendrix were married in the Provo L.D.S. Temple and they made their home in Provo, Utah. Robert worked that summer at J.A.H.A.B.O., a newly organized company who's owners first initial of their last names were used to make the company's name. They built display cases for jewelry stores and department stores.

When Robert returned to school, he wavered the first year of that electrical automation course and took the second year of that course; he received a degree in electrical automation. Robert Lucille, as she was called, was

Robert K. Giles is the last of four children born to Vincent T. and Mary Lucille Carlile Giles. Robert was born on April 21, 1952, in Heber City, Utah. His father, Vincent, farmed and raised stock on his own farm, and he worked for J. Claud Hicken, farming and in his mill for thirty years; he also worked for Earl Hardy from 1927 to 1934.

The Giles family and the Carlile family are two of the early settlers in the Heber Valley. Robert's great grandfather, Fredrick Giles, came to this valley in 1860 with his wife, Mary Ann (Moulton) and their infant son, Fredrick W. Giles; their son John T. Giles was born in the "Old Fort" when Heber Settlement was but three years old. John T. married Sarah Ann Roberts. The second child born to this couple was Vincent T. Giles who is the father of Robert K. Giles of whom this article is written.

Mary Lucille Carlile Giles, mother of Robert, was a beautiful girl and a very thoughtful person. When she married Vincent T. Giles she was ready to take his small child as her own to lavish it with the same love and care as she did her own children which came later. Lucille, as she was called, was

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Giles

In January of 1974, Robert and Vicki Hendrix were married in the Provo L.D.S. Temple and they made their home in Provo, Utah. Robert worked that summer at J.A.H.A.B.O., a newly organized company whose owners first initial of their last names were used to make the company's name. They built display cases for jewelry stores and department stores. When Robert returned to school, he wavered the first year of electrical automation course and took the second year of that course; he received a degree in electrical automation. Robert worked six weeks for University Chevon in Provo before he got the job for Wasatch County Hospital, on July 15, 1975, as maintenance man. Vicki Hendrix, Robert's wife, was born in Ely, Nevada, on July 26, 1951; she was the fourth of five children born to Finley Reid Hendrix and Juanita McLeod. Vicki's "Dad" was from Lund, Nevada; his father's family was from St. George, and Mantt, Utah area. Her Grandfather Hendrix owned a ranch called Sunnyside, it was put on the map because the post office had once been part of the property and responsibility of early owners. When her Grand-children moved into it in September of 1979.

Susan was born on June 3, 1980 at Wasatch County Hospital. On April 1st, 1981, Robert was made Purchasing Agent for the hospital, he is now the Plant Engineer and Materials Manager.

In Sept. of 1981, Robert was named as second counselor to Bishop George Pitts of the 9th Ward. He is now serving in the bishopric; he is also a member of Heber City Council; a member of Heber Light and Power Board; and a member of Heber City Planning Commission. His hobbies are mechanics - auto and other machines - since he was sixteen years old he has bought, repaired and sold 15 cars, 4 trucks, and four motorcycles.

Vicki's church callings are: homemaking leader and relief society chorister of the 9th Ward. She likes to sing and frequently sings at church gatherings. She also likes to read. She is learning to enjoy outdoor sports, while she was young she sunbathed easily and spent most of her time out of the sun.

This year, Vicki has planted a nice garden and is anxious to learn how to garden.

Good luck, Vicki, you and Robert seem to be doing all the right things to make a happy home for one another and the children.

In January of 1974, Robert and Vicki Hendrix were married in the Provo L.D.S. Temple and they made their home in Provo, Utah. Robert worked that summer at J.A.H.A.B.O., a newly organized company whose owners first initial of their last names were used to make the company's name. They built display cases for jewelry stores and department stores. When Robert returned to school, he wavered the first year of electrical automation course and took the second year of that course; he received a degree in electrical automation. Robert worked six weeks for University Chevon in Provo before he got the job for Wasatch County Hospital, on July 15, 1975, as maintenance man. Vicki Hendrix, Robert's wife, was born in Ely, Nevada, on July 26, 1951; she was the fourth of five children born to Finley Reid Hendrix and Juanita McLeod. Vicki's "Dad" was from Lund, Nevada; his father's family was from St. George, and Mantt, Utah area. Her Grandfather Hendrix owned a ranch called Sunnyside, it was put on the map because the post office had once been part of the property and responsibility of early owners. When her Grand-children moved into it in September of 1979.

Susan was born on June 3, 1980 at Wasatch County Hospital. On April 1st, 1981, Robert was made Purchasing Agent for the hospital, he is now the Plant Engineer and Materials Manager.

In Sept. of 1981, Robert was named as second counselor to Bishop George Pitts of the 9th Ward. He is now serving in the bishopric; he is also a member of Heber City Council; a member of Heber Light and Power Board; and a member of Heber City Planning Commission. His hobbies are mechanics - auto and other machines - since he was sixteen years old he has bought, repaired and sold 15 cars, 4 trucks, and four motorcycles.

Vicki's church callings are: homemaking leader and relief society chorister of the 9th Ward. She likes to sing and frequently sings at church gatherings. She also likes to read. She is learning to enjoy outdoor sports, while she was young she sunbathed easily and spent most of her time out of the sun.

This year, Vicki has planted a nice garden and is anxious to learn how to garden.

Good luck, Vicki, you and Robert seem to be doing all the right things to make a happy home for one another and the children.

In January of 1974, Robert and Vicki Hendrix were married in the Provo L.D.S. Temple and they made their home in Provo, Utah. Robert worked that summer at J.A.H.A.B.O., a newly organized company whose owners first initial of their last names were used to make the company's name. They built display cases for jewelry stores and department stores. When Robert returned to school, he wavered the first year of electrical automation course and took the second year of that course; he received a degree in electrical automation. Robert worked six weeks for University Chevon in Provo before he got the job for Wasatch County Hospital, on July 15, 1975, as maintenance man. Vicki Hendrix, Robert's wife, was born in Ely, Nevada, on July 26, 1951; she was the fourth of five children born to Finley Reid Hendrix and Juanita McLeod. Vicki's "Dad" was from Lund, Nevada; his father's family was from St. George, and Mantt, Utah area. Her Grandfather Hendrix owned a ranch called Sunnyside, it was put on the map because the post office had once been part of the property and responsibility of early owners. When her Grand-children moved into it in September of 1979.

Susan was born on June 3, 1980 at Wasatch County Hospital. On April 1st, 1981, Robert was made Purchasing Agent for the hospital, he is now the Plant Engineer and Materials Manager.

In Sept. of 1981, Robert was named as second counselor to Bishop George Pitts of the 9th Ward. He is now serving in the bishopric; he is also a member of Heber City Council; a member of Heber Light and Power Board; and a member of Heber City Planning Commission. His hobbies are mechanics - auto and other machines - since he was sixteen years old he has bought, repaired and sold 15 cars, 4 trucks, and four motorcycles.

Vicki's church callings are: homemaking leader and relief society chorister of the 9th Ward. She likes to sing and frequently sings at church gatherings. She also likes to read. She is learning to enjoy outdoor sports, while she was young she sunbathed easily and spent most of her time out of the sun.

This year, Vicki has planted a nice garden and is anxious to learn how to garden.

Good luck, Vicki, you and Robert seem to be doing all the right things to make a happy home for one another and the children.

In January of 1974, Robert and Vicki Hendrix were married in the Provo L.D.S. Temple and they made their home in Provo, Utah. Robert worked that summer at J.A.H.A.B.O., a newly organized company whose owners first initial of their last names were used to make the company's name. They built display cases for jewelry stores and department stores. When Robert returned to school, he wavered the first year of electrical automation course and took the second year of that course; he received a degree in electrical automation. Robert worked six weeks for University Chevon in Provo before he got the job for Wasatch County Hospital, on July 15, 1975, as maintenance man. Vicki Hendrix, Robert's wife, was born in Ely, Nevada, on July 26, 1951; she was the fourth of five children born to Finley Reid Hendrix and Juanita McLeod. Vicki's "Dad" was from Lund, Nevada; his father's family was from St. George, and Mantt, Utah area. Her Grandfather Hendrix owned a ranch called Sunnyside, it was put on the map because the post office had once been part of the property and responsibility of early owners. When her Grand-children moved into it in September of 1979.

Susan was born on June 3, 1980 at Wasatch County Hospital. On April 1st, 1981, Robert was made Purchasing Agent for the hospital, he is now the Plant Engineer and Materials Manager.

In Sept. of 1981, Robert was named as second counselor to Bishop George Pitts of the 9th Ward. He is now serving in the bishopric; he is also a member of Heber City Council; a member of Heber Light and Power Board; and a member of Heber City Planning Commission. His hobbies are mechanics - auto and other machines - since he was sixteen years old he has bought, repaired and sold 15 cars, 4 trucks, and four motorcycles.

Vicki's church callings are: homemaking leader and relief society chorister of the 9th Ward. She likes to sing and frequently sings at church gatherings. She also likes to read. She is learning to enjoy outdoor sports, while she was young she sunbathed easily and spent most of her time out of the sun.

This year, Vicki has planted a nice garden and is anxious to learn how to garden.

Good luck, Vicki, you and Robert seem to be doing all the right things to make a happy home for one another and the children.